The End of the Conspiracy Case. The famons "Conspiracy Case." has come to as ead. The Grand Jury failed to find a bill, and, of course, all further proceedings are stopped. It is as we have suspected. Now if the public will settle down into the belief—the only belief warranted by the facts, thus far developed—that this man Brown is a nasty, hammeless, brazen beast, who expended the money given him by the city officers for the detection of crime, in the gratification of his lustral propensities, and that he kept a record of his infamy, to be boastfully flourished in Payment in Advance.

The Atlantic Triscarph.—It is a noble and worthy suggestion that on the day when John Bull and Brother Jonathan exchange their first greetings through the Atlantic Telegraph wire, the occasion should in all the principal places in the country be appropriately observed. Let the day in Chicago be a marked one, and to that end there should be immediate steps taken for a movement and rejoicing adequate to an event to which not to every generation is youch safed an equal.

Throughout the Eastern States, and New York and Pennsylvania, the present contest in Illinois is watched with undiaguised softed tude by members of all parties. But amon those who note every movement, none are s They have just achieved an effective victory over border ruffianism in Platte County. Good men formed a conservative Union party, and nominated Dr. Samuel McGuire as their leading eminated Dr. Samuel Medicater. He is a Chris tian, a firm speaker, and a gentleman. His friends took up no useless issues in the canvass. They purchased no whisky, but boldly avowed when he separated from Mr. Buchanan on a question of fact, led them into the fatal error eir principles. They opposed the Lecompton auds, and border ruffianism of every torm The equivocal position occupied by him dur-ing the session of Congress, was interpreted by them as the result of deep-rooted dissatis-faction with the principles which h's party has latterly espoused, and they hoped when he should declare himself on the stump to the constituents by whose continued favor he has came into rarvine in loce to overwe, or-nounce, and whip in the timid to support the National Democracy. They were met by brave spirits, who burled back their denounciations and vindicated the freedom of speech and of election. Collision was only prevented by the been made what he is, that he would assume that high and statesman-like ground which would justify their predelictions in his favor, and make him hereafter an efficient and help-ful ally of the Republican force. But his would justify their predelictions in his favor, and make him hereafter an efficient and helpful ally of the Republican force. But his Chicago speech fell upon them like a pall. At first, compelled by disgust to the maintenance of silence, then to lame justification of them selves, they are now more clamorous than his steadfast opposers for his defeat. They are disappointed and hamiliated. They contess their error in elevating him to the dignity of a statesman; in attributing to him honesty of intention; in giving him credit even for the ordinary shrewdness that falls to the share of politicians in his station. His announcement of continued support of that most wretched of all humbugs—Popular Sovereignty as the Democratic teachers interpret it, and his affirmation of Dred Scott—an enormity to which he was not impelled by any logical necessity—have done his properties. ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

Pro-Slavery Rejoicing in Belleville.

When the news of the defeat of the emancipation ticket in St. Louis reached Belleville, St. Clair County, in this State, both sections of the our wants and the methods of their attain-ment better than they. Those who but lately blamed are now loud in their praises; and Democracy united in celebrating the, to them, "glorious result." The following report of the meeting we find in the St. Louis Republicans, the organ of the pro-slavery party in Missouri: those who were despondent are sure that we deserve and will win success. No Republiorgan of the pro-slavery party in Missouri:

Globious Mertine.—On receipt of the news of the glorious victory schiered by the National Democracy in St. Louis, a public meeting was called in the Court House at Belleville, and after able speeches having been delivered by Messer. Kase, Snyder and Raynolds, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Beodeed, That this meeting of Democrats of old St. Clair County, of Illinois, do most sincerely approve and highly appreciate the great and glorious victory of National Democratic principles over the Abolition party, by the election of the Hon. Mr. Barret to Congress, in the city and county of St. Louis, Missouri, and this meeting possess no adequate language to express their unbounded joy and heartfelt satisfaction for the great and unprecedented triumph of principle, over the enemies of the Constitution and the Union.

Resolved, That this meeting considers this great and important triumph of Democratic principle, in the late St. Louis election over the Abolition party, in one of the strongest holds of that party in the United States, is unerring evidence of the downtall and overthrow throughout the Union of that dangerous and unscrupulous marty, and that by the ambilitation of the can in Illinois has doubted that it would The spoataneous outburst of enthusiasm which, from Trinity Bay to Texas, followed the announcement of the successful laying of the great Telegraph Cable, proves that all erous English people with whom we are now brought into such direct and intimate associout the Union of that dangerous and unscrupu-lous party, and that by the annihilation of the Abolition party, the sluvery agitation will cease to exist, and thereby the country will, again en-joy peace and happiness.

Thus it will be seen that both sections of the Democracy in this State regard those citizens of a slave-holding State, who seek to relieve themselves from the incubus of slavery, as "enemi of the Constitution and the Unio of the Constitution and the Union." Henry Clay was an ardent supporter of emanicipation in Kentucky, which renders him obnexious to this charge of enmity to the Constitutution and the Union, preferred by the pro-slavery Democ-racy of Illinois.

"The Democratic party is at present in the ascendancy in Minnesota. We have not however a reliable majority in the Legislature upon party issues, owing to the divisions made by the national Administration. That this State is naturally Democratic, I have no doubt; but the future depends entirely upon the result of the November election in Illiancia. The election of Kepresentatives to Congress and the State Legislature has been postponed to October, 1859, Islaure has been postponed to October, 1859, Italiance course may show us the North-Star State, but it depends entirely upon the result in Illianoin."

Consequences of the Defeat of Douglas.

A Minnesota Democrat writes from St. Paul to the Philadelphia Press, under date of July 81, as follows:

31, as follows:

If Stephen A. Douglas is sustained by the Democracy of his State, Minnesota is Democratic for as indefinite time. If he should be beaten this State and the cutire Northwest is irredeemably Republican. The energy of the Democratic party of the North will be "crushed out." It will not and cannot be aroused again during the lifetime of the present Administration at least. With the loss of Illinois we can rely on Indiana and Minnersota no longer, and Ohio, Michigan and Io at cannot be redeemed.

The writer of the above is undunhedly con-

The writer of the above is undoubtedly cor-rect as to what will result from the defeat of Douglas. Aside, therefore, from a patriotic desire to piace a corrupt and unscrupulous demagogue where he can do no more mischief, Republicans have in this fact another very power-ful incentive to battle for the defeat of Douglas.

A Good Nomination.

Hon. Francis Springer, of Columbus County, lows, has been nominated by the Republicans as a candidate for Judge in the district composed. of the counties of Lee, Des Moines, Henry and Louisa. The Davenport Gazette thus speaks of the qualifications of Mr. Springer:

This gentleman, it will be remembered, was the President of the recent Constitutional Convention, in which situation he commanded the vention, in which situation he communded the universal respect of all parties and endeared himself to the members of that body, not only by his unwavering urbanity and impartiality, but by the exhibition of rare quritiies as a legislator and a jurist. We cannot but sincery hope for the triumphant election of a gentlemna so well qualified to maintain the dignity and honor of the bench.

The New-York correspondent of the National Intelligencer writes:

A new Life Buoy is attracting great attention among old and experienced seamen. It is use-less here to attampt a description of it, except that it has the shape of an egg, with its point clougated into a deep hold, which may be loaded with treasure, water and provisions, so that if it were to fall sideways from a ship into the ocean it would right itself in two sciends, and remain right side up without care. "An old salt," who speaks of it through the Commercial, couniters it "a vessel of mercy, a sort of afterpiece to a shipsreek." Two men in it, charged with milhons of treasure, might float a whole year in the ocean-path of commerce waiting for relief. Even if a ship (he say) were sinking so suddenly that no launch could be made, the new vessel might be filled and left on deck to go down in the ship and rise solely by its own bueyancy. It is thought deserving the attention of the Navy Department.

Restitution by Brigham Young. The following information is given in a letter from Salt Lake City to the St. Louis Republican, it cannot long contune so. Every Manufacturer encouraged in our Country makes part of a Market for Provisions within ourselves, and saves so much Money to the Country as must otherwise be exported to pay for the Manufactures he supplies. Here in England it is well known and understood, that wherever a Manufacture is established which cumploys a Number of Hands, it raises the Value of Lands in the neighboring Country all around it; partly by the greater Demand near at hand for the Produce of the Land; and partly from the Pienty of Money drawn by the Manufacturer's to that Part of the Country. It seems, therefore, the Interest of all our Farmers and Owners of Lands, to encourage our young Manufactures in preference to foreign ones imported among us from distant Countries.

Suicids in Muscaning County.—On Friday A Terrific Storm—Fearful Effects of the Lightning—One Man and Several Animals is tilled.

(From the Jollet Tree Democrat, 7th.)

On last Saturday evening we were visited by one of the most terrific thunder storms we have ever witnessed. The rain poured down in perfect torrents for hours, and the heavens were in a perfect biaze of lightning. The thunder rolled incessantly in deafening peals, and appeared to shake the very foundations of the earth.

We learn that the house of a Mr. Powell in the town of Washington, in this county, was struck, and Mrs. Powell instantly killed, and Mr. Powell and several of the family so severely injured that their lives are dispaired of. The clothing of the children was set on fire, and they were too much shocked to put it out, until after they were severely burned.

We have learned of damage being done to property in various places, but nothing very serious. Within the city limits, the lightning struck in as many, as twenty different places, without, however, doing any very serious damage. How, Hyde & Co. a mills, firm it & Ward's planing mill, the flock lasand fashroad bridge, the dwellings of Measus. Within and Molloy, Mrz. Tuliock's barn, the old Exchange Hotel, besides numerous other buildings, were struck, and alightly injured. Four cows, in different parts of the city, were killed. A horse hitched to a telegraph pole, near Park & Elwood's office, was knocked down three or four times, when it was discovered that a small wire came down the pole from the main one to within a few inches of the horse. We heard several horses were killed on the tow-path, and a pair of mules were so much frightened that they jumped into the river, and were carried over the dam and drowned. A span of horses from Naperville ware killed near town, and a valuable one belonging to Mr. Warren Hawley, of Lockport, was struck dead instantly. Suicide in Muscatine Courty.—On Friday last, Mr. Steares, a farmer of Muscatine ionnty, residing near the Junction, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a racor. He was an elderly man, some sixty years of age, and the reason assigned for this act was that if consequence of an injury to his leg he had to suffer amputation, and the dread of the operation led him to the commission of the act whilethe surgeon had gone for his instruments.

VERY FOOLISH.—A farmer in Jacksof county committed suicide last week, in consequence of the failure of bis crops. HORIBLE DEATH.—A boy of elever years of are, by the name of M significance, who was in the employ of Jos. Barnap, Esq., living 3 miles north west of Hillsbore', met death in amost horrible manner last Saturday. Mr. Burnai had been reaging with a machine, and went to like house for a moment on some errand, leaving the boy seated on the machine, in charge of the team. While thus seated, he observed a snak close by, and called out to his companior (another boy), at the same time cracking his whim. This started

Statistics of Russian Seridom.

[Correspondence of the None Freue's sche Zeitunn.]

Sr. Petrassucson, July 8, 1858.

The following statistics of seridom are taken from a lake report of the Minister of the Interior. There are in Russia 30,000 actual slaves, not connected with the soil. They are called Ludi Dissemblei—"people without land." Their owers are about 3,000 in number, and when the slaves do not labor for their masters, they are compelled to pay them two-fifts of the product of their work. They can also be sold and separated from their families. There are 30,706 landed proprietors, owning from one to twenty serfs apiece, and these serfs number 742,420 she proprietors having from 21 to 100 serfs, are 12,924, with 5,271,648 serts. Wealthy proprietors, with from 101 to 1,000 serfs, are 19,808 with an aggregate of 7,807,000 serfs. Proprietors, with from 1,001 to 2,000 serfs, are 19,808 with an aggregate of 7,807,000 serfs, are 19,808 with from 1,001 to 2,000 serfs, are 19,801 to 1,417, with 6,567,006 serts. The report cosciudes with the statement, that of twenty-thres and a half millions of serfs belonging to the nebles, more than thirteen millions are mortgaged to the Crown, until the payment of 597,879,49 rubles. "An" perhaps some of my readers may exclaim, "that is all very well; you have shown us a fine picture; but it is too bright,—all sunlight and no shadows. This cannot be true to nature, so now, if you please, let us have the dark side as well as the light." Well, let it be so, and I will as truthfully set forth the one side as the other. The seitler then must make up his mind to submit to many privations to which, perhaps, he has never before been accustomed; such as living in a log shanty with neither ceiting dor floor, the spaces between the logs chinked up with pieces of wood and then filled with mud; seats, it may be, made out of slabs of basswood; half a window with six panes of glass in it; beds filled with prairie grass and bedseads, is may be, constructed with poplar poles. Then again his roof, being made of troughs, or perhaps of aplits, may not be as tight as the good shingled roof he has hitherto been accustomed to, and a little rain may now and then lind its way through. The female portion of his family may fret a little at the inconveniences to which they are subjected and wish themselves back again in the fold management of the research of the research of the subject of and with its carpeted floors, papered walls and mahogany larniture, and speak rather contemptuously of their present abode, with his rough, unhews logs and bare floor, and the loose untwhich will in spute of all their care drop sometimes upon the butter or into the bread-pan.

Yet what are all such matters but mere trifuse which will nat probably at the longest not over a single war, and it borne with a cheerful and contented spirit, will really amount to very little, and in two or three years afterwards will be looked back upon without regres, and indeed most probably with laughter and merriment. In fact, if the man is active and has either som of friends to help him, he may be much more connectable during the first year than I have represented hum. He may for instance square his logs both inside and out, which will make a much sicer and cleaner house than when they are put up unhewed. The roof, too, may be constructed so perfectly light that no rains will leak through unless, in case of some extraordinary storm. Of course, it lumber is within reach, he can make him sell and his family as a comfortable and more involved in the new settler. But it is only for a tim COPYING INK OF EVERY DESIRABLE MANUFACTURE.

These will of course be more or less uniform in their width and thickness according to the experience or skill of the workman. For a house of the size designated enought of these spils can be made by a couple of experienced men, and the building covered in three days, so that a shelter for the settler can easily be crected within a week from the time he detarmines where his future home shall be.

But supposing a man has no cross-cut saw, nor has any idea of making spilts, the can at allevents manufacture troughs. These are made by cutting down bass or, popiar trees, and then with an ax and adze hollowing out the insides in the form of troughs. These are hald upon the roof with the hollow part up, nearly touching each other, and over every two of these is laid another in a reverse position. The water is well carried away by these, and they make, it well put up, a very tight toof; although they do not look as well as one covered with spilis.

The house being completed, or at all events made habitable, the next thing to be seen to will be the breaking.
